Joshua Endemann

Summary

Detail-oriented web developer with a commitment to precision and productivity. Proficient in working independently and maintaining focus. A passionate problem solver, skilled at bringing ideas together and finding solutions. Constantly seeking opportunities to expand my knowledge and grow in the field of web development.

Projects

myMovie Application - CareerFoundry

This project is the React based client-side component for the MyFlix application based on my existing server-side code (REST API and database). Users can register, login, view movie info (including genres & directors), filter movies, add/remove favorite movies to a user specific favorites list, update user info, as well as delete their accounts entirely.
